Last Updated Saturday, 27 October 2007

Skiing at Pineview! This is a US Forest Service summer campground located on the South-side of Pineview Reservoir on Highway 39. Occasionally groomed by the US Forest Service classic skiing is recommended. Normally tracks are set by previous skiers or by you! When conditions are good, this is a nice place to ski and very scenic. The terrain is flat with one gentle roller to the East. This is a great spot to learn, to play, and just tool around. Anderson cove is never busy and has easy access for cars. The best conditions are from late December - February. Trail Length: Approx 2 km. Elevation 5,000'
